Go ahead and figure it out
I will lend an open ear
When you find out what she's all about
Lust is such a fleeting desire
She'll spark you up and light your flame
But who's gonna tend that fire
I know just how you feel
She's runnin' through your veins
You've got a pulse again
And you're ready for the world

Cause you got that hottie
You got that hottie
You got that hottie
And you're ready for the world

So now what's your problem
Is she clinging to you a little too much?
She called you twenty times today
To tell you how she needs your touch
So bad it's so sad you just had deja vu
You just had one bad relationship
And now you've got two

And she's drivin' you crazy
She needs that commitment
She'll have your baby
And you're ready for the world

Cause you got that hottie
You got that hottie
You got that hottie
And you're ready for the world

And she's breakin your back
She's changin' your world
She was ready for you
But were you ready for the girl?

Cause you got that hottie
You got that hottie

You got that hottie
And you're ready for the world
