"Love Path"

I cast myself

Into the borderline

I redeem my faults

I've got the rein of my life

Here comes the wind of change

It makes us realize

There's no more touching olace to be

Than here and now

Once and for all

I throw all my past away

Shadows of death don't make me afraid

You dry the tears from my eyes

Before the wind of change

Blows for your life

You need to learn to love

All things around
