My life becoming worthless,
I'll never learn, I'll never learn from it.
My worth becoming senseless,
I'll never learn, I'll never f*cking learn.

I live for the knight life,
But nothing I can do can make me feel alive,
Standing on my own tonight,
My blurring vision, I see nothing in plain sight.

I live for the knight life,
But nothing I can do can make me feel alive,
Standing on my own tonight,
My blurring vision, I see nothing in plain sight.

Have I taken this too far, have I gone over the edge.
Because I cannot believe in this, or what anyone has said.
I have broken this line, I have wasted my time.
I need to grow up and move on before this takes over
my life.

Lie after lie I've shed and every chance I had
To finally better myself in life.
I took all you had to give,
It left me washed up and worthless in society.

Overcome!

I know you'll never trust me, if I cannot even trust
myself
I know you'll never trust me, if I cannot even trust
myself

Have I taken this too far, have I gone over the edge.
Because I cannot believe in this, or what anyone has
said.
I have broken this line, I have wasted my time.
I need to grow up and move on before this takes over
my life.

Have I taken this too far, have I gone over the edge.
Because I cannot believe in this, or what anyone has
said.
I have broken this line, I have wasted my time.
I need to grow up and move on before this takes over
my life.
