I look at you with disgust disappointment and regret all we've been through how could you fucking forget?

you said I was forced to so bitter and I didn't want to leave your wing for the first time and I would never leave you behind I carry you in my attitude the words I speak and the things I do in every line your voice rings through I only fly because of you tonight if I did in my sleep all the times we've shared I hope in your heart you will keep tonight if i die

I die in my sleep

I will die
