You think you're blood to me
And I think you're fuckin' wrong

What is there left to show
For all the wasted years you've taken from me
When the memory of your smile
Makes my head turn the other way

And what is there left to say after all
The hollow things you've said to me
When just thinking about your touch
Leaves today feeling so empty

Every smile was a waste
Wasted on your love
Every smile was a waste
Wasted on your love

You think you're blood to me
And I think you're fuckin' wrong
'Cause you crossed the line one last time
So I'm going through you if I can't get over you

I'm getting over you
The only way I know how
Over you

You think you're blood to me
And I think you're fuckin' wrong
'Cause you crossed the line one last time
So I'm going through you if I can't get over you

I'm getting over you
The only way I know how

Over you
Over you
Over you
Over you

Every smile was a waste
Wasted on your love

Every smile was a waste
Wasted on your love

I'm getting over you
The only way I know how
Over you

Every smile was a waste
Wasted on your love
Every smile was a waste
Wasted on your love

I'm getting over you
The only way I know how

Over you
Over you
Over you
Over you
Over you

You crossed the line from enemy to casualty
The day you disrespected me
You crossed the line from enemy to casualty
You crossed the line from enemy to casualty
