There's a shadow at the blue heaven bar
I'm always there going way to far
Here the innocence glitters like gold
And the guilty harts drown their souls
But you can breath here
If you still know how to breath
You can love here
If you still know how to love
I love the moonlight mourners cafe
In this part were no secrets can hide
Let's drink to the winters gone by Coz sin is a priceless fortune to find
But you can breath here
If you still know how to breath
You can love here
If you still know how to love
There's nothing clean left
Nothing oustide
Nothing left for my pride
I like Venus in an x-rated pose
She loves and cries coz no body knows
Wiskey brings my loaded gun loose
When I do the blue heaven blues
If I can breath here
I still know how to breath
If I can love here
I still know how to love
