Is it really peace that we want
Can we afford it's price
Do we really know for sure
That war is the worst evil of all
Then the voice of anger that rises high
Is crushed and silenced by the law
So that the voice behind the money wheels
Can spin faster and makes some more
So is it really peace that we want
Can we afford it's price
Do we really know for sure
That war is the worst evil of all
With peace comes the soldier that loosed
Those who stand up and fight back
Has to get back onto bended knees
And accept the victors peace
Is it really peace that we want
Can we afford it's price
Do we really know for sure
That war is the worst evil of all
At the peace comes the silent wave
And it cuts like a knife
And tribers and countries are split in half
And global trust has cleaned it's hands
Is it really peace that we want
Can we afford it's price
Do we really know for sure
That war is the worst evil of all
Are we really so sure
That war is the worst of it all
