My life begins today right this minute I'm accepting my weaknesses continued struggle goes on forever the pointlessness of feeling useless we can survive tonight, tonight while I'm at your side I'm through crying over the milk that has yet to spill standing still, amidst a commotion while the force against us is in perpetual motion
we can survive tonight
tonight and I'm at your side

We don't need to be all alone we can hold up one another We won't be all alone, if we hang on to each other Days spent in a hurry, destined never to return dont fret, dont worry, we've got lessons left to learn
