she likes to keep to herself... but i would also love to keep her she may sleep all alone... she's not the only lonely sleeper when a bunch of realistic schemes seep into my daydreams

she's got the disinfectant when all i've gotten myself is lost she'll buy my heart at any cost and it's just a safe investment i may look like clark kent, but i'm no superman just a mild-mannered kid, looking for my Lois Lane looking for my Lois Lane whoa-oh, i know, she's what i see when my eyes close whoa-oh, i know, when she's gone, where she goes

I'd throw rose petals at her feet and feed her all that she could eat a thousand kisses i would send her I'd make her be my valentine, i'd wash my mouth with turpentine
I'd even like her if she changed her gender
