Adrenaline pushed up the body confused mind is flooded with pictures targetless and restless I'm running I don't understand - what happened

Something evil bit me

With every move she made she winged my fantasy with every word she had spoken she set my anger free I felt it growing strong I felt it
it devoured

And through my brain a stabbing pain pulsated yeah, it animated

then something snapped in my head and the murdering started...

Red stream begun to flow over her head - down to the neck as my fist fucked her face a demon in me took control and her face - new formed dead body collided with the wall again and again sweet headcrusch symphony

Nervosity crawls in me as I look down to the blood
as I look down to the blood
