Help me sometimes, i need that much
Don't you think it's strange
How we can turn to dust
Think it's strange, like really strained
We'll never run when we've got all these broken bones
It's so hard to let you go
It's so hard to let you go
But i will make you change your mind
But i will make you change your mind
Think of me sometimes, i'd never tell
Do you recognise me, think that you know me well
I think you're changing, configurating
Destroyed the lines
That fed the goods to your heart
It's so hard to let you go
It's so hard to let you go
Run with the hunted as you come
Run with the hunted as you come
Run with the wanted i was one
Run with the wanted i was one
But i will make you change your mind
But i will make you change your mind
It's so hard to let you go
It's so hard to let you go
T
Run with the hunted as you come
Run with the wanted i was one
Run with the hunted as you come
Run with the wanted i was one
Run with the wanted i was one
But i will make you change your mind
But i will make you change your mind
