

In Desperate Times "Lost Conscience"

Visit "Lost Conscience" on MotoLyrics.com

My conscience is lost since I've heard those words since I saw my last chance's gone I knew that pride has its moment to be showed but even though I let you know this side of me I still want you and your words around my head but even though we are now on separate ways these thoughts just bring me the memories of a true past,true love and a cold enticement now the disgust of both sides makes us feel torpid to take any prove of effort I still want you and your words around my head

but even though we are now on separate ways I've got breath to get back what I gave you
