There is so much bullshit within this walls many people think like me some feel it's time to leave it's time to leave
why do people change so fast?
why do I care so much with that?
it wasn't supposed to be a waste of time, not even a sacrifice

will you pretend that everything is right? ok I can go alone this night
why do people change so fast?
it's normal to see the kids killing what they once were of course it hurts me but it's not my fault
