these are the best times of our lives don't ruin them with petty fights so quick to throw a fist it's your own point that you've missed let me make this clear I don't want your ego here check them at the door don't look to settle the score these are the best times of my life you weren't born with hardcore in your blood remember who you were remember who you are
