They come from a land where the sun don't shine,
Running away from the cold..
They travel so far in the name of love,
Hoping the dreams will come true..

Walking the way through endless fields,
Trying to make it together..
Eternal grin.. Ever sleeking..
Jester the fool.. to fall in love!!

And they will give anything,
Just to be free from the pain!
But they won't surrender!!

Living in a world of promises!
Living in a world of dreams and hopes!!
Living in a world of promises!

Lost in the city wondering why,
No one can open the door..
It's more to the truth than meets the eye,
Something they all felt before..

And they will give anything,
Just to stand tall again!
But they won't surrender!!

Living in a world of promises!
Living in a world of dreams and hopes!!
Living in a world of promises!

With the dread of the nights, we hear them crying!
Out for a life, to hold on to!
Somebody knows, where the answers lying!
Wait for your chance and don't, don't let go!!

Living in a world of promises!
Living in a world of dreams and hopes!!
Living in a world of promises!
