Why r we still fighting this war?
what are we still fighting this for?
open your eyes from what may awaken them to see the true night and day wake up, wake up, wake up! we wont stride this woeful world for much longer harrowing the earth and building every city we are lost in this dark place
-of no return
we are lost in this dark infinite abyss puncturing the earth what will be death valley and in the end all life dies
and in the end, this will end with dark dead skies
where have we gone wrong?
tears form gallons, our ships slowly sinking
where have we gone wrong?
the sonner we sleep, the sooner this will pass!
projecting fear onto our enemies before we die, before we die we must change our ways for the future i'll watch the sun set into a sea of blood and wonder if it will ever return
-return?
and in the end all life dies
and in the end, in the end the eyes begin to open, but hence to no avail the torn earth still weeps its sullen cry the bloodstained clouds still remind me of yesterday the vegetation begins to grow
-upon the mouths of stone angels
and in the end all life dies
and in the end this will end with dark dead skies all life dies!
and in the end all life dies
why cant i dream anymore?
