You're telling me the things I want are so worthless
Well I'm telling you your ways will keep you down
I know you'd feel so much better...about yourself
If I put my goals aside...and followed you around
Even if I stand alone
At least my beliefs are my own
It makes no sense to me
Because you could do so much
Potential runs so high but still you don't give a fuck
You'd rather follow others beliefs and not care

Dwelling on the things in life that are not fair
Even if I stand alone
At least my beliefs are my own
My own!
Mistakes and faults are all you see
You're in no position to relate to me
I made a choice and I knew I'd stay
Don't need your disrespect
Because you couldn't live this way
Because you couldn't live this way!
