"Reasons Held Within"

dirty hands dirty mind questions lurking deep inside of regret of remorse a life can't find it's course situation overload life lowered to threshold the night is now growing old eyes shut and blood turns cold my life an overload blood-clot of reasons told inside a mind so tired now a voice coated in sin reasons still held within situation overload life lowered to threshold a mind so tired then reasons still held within beg shout attention drowned digging into lower ground a searching for the sound of silence can't be found a silence can't be found among this void
