At the fall of every sun
Many righteous souls for life must run
So I was told

I have ripped apart the sky
Seen the innocent, alone they die
This world is so cold

So miserable, that you sleep in darkness womb
Your wretched life, that feed you, so I cut the cord
Spiller of blood, who stand above the laws of man
Will surely die by my hand

A lack of justice,
I am witness to demons walking free
Plead for a savior
I shall heed your call, because justice is me

I have borrowed the eyes of a god
And corruption is drowning us
I have seen through the eyes of a god
I wont leave this unpunished

Follow me, into a dreamers promised land
Life or death, Justices lies in Caesars thumb

Blood is the sacrifice
To rid the world of lies

Why would you rid justice! ?
Me truly a Death god
