How did we get this far?
How did this come to be?
Why does fear dominate
When all we want is peace?
We've got to find a way to heal
The wounds that we have bled
The empires fall
And rise again

Save us, save us from ourselves
Now

We are fighting without a reason
Were killing her softly day by day
Were guilty
Were all in treason
It's time to mend this great divide

We have to end the hate
And fight hypocrisy
We have to believe in life
And all humanity
Think of the children that have to live
In what we leave behind
The empires rise and fall again

Save us, save us from ourselves
Now

We are fighting without a reason
Were killing her softly day by day
Were guilty
Were all in treason
It's time to mend this great divide
