You never tell about your heart
You always keep your privacy
Cause you can't say "I miss you, girl"
I miss you in my dreams
Your eyes are stone as cold as ice
You know you never lose control
But there's a tremble in your voice
Cause, baby, you need more?

More and more I know what you're looking for
More and more you'll find what you're searching for
More and more I am what you're looking for
More and more I know what you feel,
What you feel ?
?baby

Remember you won't be a man
Until you finally learn to say
These old three words "I love you"
And love you every day
You feel ashamed to show your soul
Or maybe you're not strong enough
But I will locking up the door to find a greater love

More and more I know what you're looking for
More and more you'll find what you're searching for
More and more I am what you're looking for
More and more I know what you feel
More and more I know what you're looking for
More and more you'll find what you're searching for
More and more I am what you're looking for
More and more I know what you feel?
?baby

?I am what you really want, baby
And I know what you need, I know?
What you feel, what you feel, what you feel,
What you feel, what you feel, what you feel baby!..

More and more I know what you're looking for
More and more you'll find what you're searching for

More and more I am what you're looking for
More and more I know what you feel
More and more I know what you're looking for
More and more you'll find what you're searching for
More and more I am what you're looking for
More and more I know what you feel?
?baby, baby, baby
