While I was asleep
I dreamt of all the scenes you painted for me
In shades across the sky

We sleep with waking dreams of night
With a brush I'll bring the light with a line so deep
You'll feel it while you sleep
This line divides the dark and light and now
I'm bringing it to life
Can you see it now can you feel it breathing

Swallow one last placebo
To bring sweet dreams
Just leave your god damned egos at home
Don't preach to me

We sleep with waking dreams of night
With a brush I'll bring the light with a line so deep
You'll feel it while you sleep
This line divides the dark and light and now
I'm bringing it to life
Can you see it now can you feel it breathing

We sleep with waking dreams of night
With a brush I'll bring the light with a line so deep
You'll feel it while you sleep

I will walk through a light so dark and alive
