Doesn't matter where we're going if we're heading in the wrong direction, there's no connection here, yeah, and you know this

It doesn't matter if you want me if you can't decide just what you need I just surrender myself in But you know this

You keep turning left and baby,
I keep turning right And everything we say or do you turn into major fight And frankly I'm tired, baby I'm tired
Of you

But if you could only see me and other feeling through a ney Yeah if you could only feel me
we wouldn't have to part this way, yeah
You try to make it better pretending everything's okay
But if you had only seen me, yeah-eh
then you wouldn't see me walk away, yeah

It doesn't matter what the question is if you can't accept the answer I give you everytime You ask me, and

It doesn't matter what you're saying when your action speaks another language still messing with my mind Cause you need to see still I know you know this

We have grown apart and baby well, I don't think you see that even if you love me, we're just, we're not meant to be
And I, frankly I'm tired, ooh baby I'm tired

Of you

But if you could only see me
and other feeling through a ney
Yeah if you could only feel me
we wouldn't have to part this way, yeah
You try to make it better
pretending everything's okay
But if you had only seen me, yeah-eh

I don't think you see me and even if you love me
We're just, we're not meant to be
And I, frankly I'm tired
I'm tired cause I'm not in love with you anymore I'm tired cause it's over and we're through And you know this I'm tired cause there's nothing more to see
And I'm sick of explaining yeah
You need to see that what we have is an ebrah, oh

If you could only see me
we wouldn't have to part this way, yeah
But you try to make things better pretending everything's okay
But if you had only seen me, yeah
then you wouldn't see me walk away, yeah

(only see me)
and other feeling through a ney Yeah if you could only see me
we wouldn't have to part this way, yeah
And you try to make it better pretending everything's okay
But if you had only seen me, yeah-eh
then you wouldn't see me walk away, yeah

Ooh, yeah, ah, yeah, eh ah
