(J-P. Maunick / D. Maunick)

Life has cast a smile
In this game of chance
But you can't take for granted
That you've got it all worked out

Fool if you think there's nothing left to learn
You got to get down, get down, get down
Back down to earth

How could you not know?
There's quite a way to go
The wheels won't stop from turning
The chapters ever changing

We can't allow ourselves to be blinded by pride
We are so small in the plan of creation
Gravitate, gravitate, gravitate
Elevate, elevate, elevate
Your mind

So, you think there's nothing left to learn
You got to get down, get down, get down
Back down to earth

There's a story of a man
Who bragged he knew it all
Arrogance outspoken
He died alone and broken

Fool if you think there's nothing left to learn
You got to get down, get down, get down
Back down to earth
