I'm standing here
I'm right here beside you
You're not alone
Just look through the mirror
Come hold my hand
And do what you have to
I know you hear me
I am you

So alone, falling forever
On my own, it's now or never
Try to see, try to remember
Why you're here and make me surrender
You're always here corrupting my mind
Blinding me inside
Had enough, now I remember
So tonight, I'm leaving you behind

I am the one
The one to rely on
Look what I've done,
And what you've become
So take my hand and do what you have to
I know you hear me
I am you

So alone, falling forever...
