Obscene and unwelcome
Trapped inside yourself
Struggling for firm ground
Deeper and deeper you go

This voice of arrogance
Whispers in your year
A never ending circle
Stuck onto your mind

Searching for errors
But there's nothing to find
Deceived by the system
Even though it's a lie

Plastic ideals, blinding your eyes
An empty shell, reflecting a lie
Walking along the road that you're on
You are buried from life

Weakness and sorrow
Is all it can give
Try to remember
You're still above ground

Don't cry your heart out
There is something you can do
With all you makeup
You are prettier than Sue

Searching for errors...

Plastic ideals...
