Could there be a familiar ring every time I sing about Cycle the tears everything in life no doubt I, I Reiterate to my jaw is off-set
But I'll say it again anyway
What you give it what you get

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again
Smacked in your face again
Smacked in the face again

So when the door comes swinging back around and the taste
Of familiar medicine is abound on your breath, breath
Please don't come crawling back to me
'Cuz you'll know what I'll say
Brother let your knees bleed please!

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again
Smacked in your face again
Smacked in the face again
Smacked in your face again

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again

Look at you now, look at you now
You're put in your place, put in your place oh
All medicine, all medicine is smacked in your face
Smacked in the face again
Ooh oh
Ooh oh
