I don't want to talk to you anymore
I'm afraid of what I might say
I bite my tongue everytime you come around
Cause in my mouth beats on the ground
Hand over my heart I swear I've tried everything I could Within all my power two weeks and one hour
I slaved and now I've got nothing to show
Oh if only you'd grow taller than a brick wall
From now on I'm gonna start holding my breath
When you come around and you flex that fake grin Cause something inside of me has said more than twice
That breathing less air beats breathing you in chorus:

I don't want to talk to you anymore
I'm afraid of what I might say
I bite my tongue everytime you come around
Cause in my mouth beats on the ground

Hand over my mouth I'm earning the right to my silence
In quiet discerning between ego and timing
Good judgement is once again proving to me that it's Still worth it's weight in gold

So from now on I'm gonna be so much more wary
When you start to speak and my warm starts to boil
That seeing you is like pulling teeth
And hearing your voice is like chewing tin foil chrous:

I don't want to talk to you anymore
I'm afraid of what I might say
I bite my tongue everytime you come around
Cause in my mouth beats on the ground
High fives to a better judgement
By saying less today I will gain more
Low twos to you my fickle friend
Who brought the art of silent war
