no one is born a bigot there is no mind more open than a child's but teach a child prejudice, hatred and that mind begins to close until a racist is born evil is not innate, no child knows color teaching their children to lie, prejudge and be close-minded sometimes what we don't teach our children is more important than what we do it's relentless this ignorance that infects us all it has come to be what we expect perpetuated by years of ignorance passed on through the generations but we won't be deceived why are we born with blood on our hands and sin on our minds why are we born with guilt and a blade hanging over our heads evil seems instinctual, what's right must be pursued why are the tools no longer given to us why have we rights to abuse we refuse to be guilty
