Running in the darkness, you slip but carry on Summoned by soft voices, eyes glow red at dawn Listen now, as shrieking specters beckon you to rise Are they only childhood fears or have you lost your mind?

You ride the waves of daydreams... crash for years in bed
Stared so long at escape maps, you've burnt holes in your head
Come admit your secret plan to make it to the top Hear the sirens as they sing till the day you drop:

Fall through the ice, into my eyes
Islands of light guide you tonight

Here the trees are made of smoke ? the wind hears when they fall
Ice drips like an angel's eye, tears make us recall Lonely voices fill the air, so perfect in their frost Sweet deception sang for you, till everything was lost

Fall through the ice, into my eyes
Islands of light guide you tonight
Fall through the ice, into my eyes
Islands of light guide you tonight

Don't you recognize your own voice in our coven's song?
Dreams have sealed our covenant, but the trees are gone
You're as free as any bird, your burdens were your wings
You're so bewitched you start to fall, as I begin to sing:

Fall through the ice, into my eyes
Islands of light guide you tonight
Fall through the ice, into my eyes
Islands of light guide you tonight
