Lullaby (Mountain) by The Acorn

I, I will wash over you

I know your heart is true

Little Mountain of mine

'Cause the sun set down on me

You turn your head and slowly start to breathe

Like the common bonds on carbon, buried deep

I'm the shadow of the long forgotten dream

But I, I will wash over you

I know your heart is true

Little mountain of mine

But every word I wrote left incomplete

And the promises I never got to keep

Though you toes grow colder as you sleep

The blood runs through your heart with every beat

'Cause I, I will wash over you

I know your heart is true

Little Mountain of mine

I, I will wash over you

I know your heart is true

Little Mountain of mine
