New york
To your tall skyline I come
Flying in from london
To your door

New york
Lookin' down on central park
Where they say you should not wander
After dark

New york
Like a scene from all those movies
But you're real enough to me
But there's a heart
A heart that lives in new york

A heart in new york

A rose on the street
I write my song to that city heartbeat
A heart in new york
Love in her eye
An open door and a friend for the night

New york
You got money on your mind
And my words don't make a dime's
Worth a difference
So here's to you new york

New york
Now my plane is touching down
