Two hearts are on their way
They wanna stay but they didn't come together
Two hearts are on their way
They wanna stay but they didn't come together again

She is working hard,
He's the kind of man who could never win
She believes in love and don't believe in pain
They are different in way
Can they swallow all their pride
Disappointment is filling their mind
And they feel it deep inside

Two hearts
They try in vain, they will be never together again
Two hearts
They try in vain, they will be never together again

He is far away and the times are gone
And the sky is blue
Nothing left to say, nothing left to do
She believes he'll return just one day
There's no end for the love we share
He'll remember the time that
Was it more than a love affair

Two hearts cannot come together
They are too different
No-one wanna change his mind
They live their own life
And finally their are two lonely hearts

And finally they're two lonely hearts.
