Sky clad within the circle, await the sign, commencing
The evocation of the damned
The tides find your favour, they guide your will, now recruiting
Invocation for the damned
Timeless elements, forbidden truths, behold the key
Unlock the power to your command
Appear into your minds eye, your enemy
Transforming into your helpless prey
Each word every action, designed to now destroy
Your will is now the only law
Drink dead of the chalice, sacrificial blood, fathering deaths
Sweet conception now at hand
Spiral fire climbs into the night, feeding darkness
Perpetually it grows and gains
Finding deaths flavour, I smile to you
Outside you, inside you, creature of doom
Your pain is my pleasure I hunger for more Viewing disaster in the eye of the storm
By your own choice you drink from the cup
Filled with the nectars of my pain
Screams of terror cannot escape
Contorted features out of their shape
Lying still, could death asunder
Your body heaves convulsive shudders
Lead: Hallman
Death fucks life, obscene collision
Faceless mouths feeding on you
You shall die, and have died, and are dying
Conjured death, stalking, attacking
Corrupted, diseased, eternal wakened state of rigor mortis
As I will, so shall it be
