"As Coward Meets Coward"

Useless words are the weapons of your conviction

Molesting

Infiltrating every perception

Disciples of a world called insolence

Memories corrode my soul though I meet you again

I'm alone with a neverending wrong

Feel so much pain and endless amazement

Nothing is real as the uncertainty I feel

Thirsted I drink the poisoned rain

My sentence... after a life in perennial cowardice

Thousands of painful dreaming elements

Like symbols of post-humanity

Collapsing like houses of cards

Fall into a strange, unusual chasm

I hear your voice, your suffering

While shattered mirrors reflect my damnation

The distorted vision of denied purification

As coward meets coward

As coward meets me...
