Let's take a better look
Beyond a story book
And learn our souls are all we own
Before we turn to stone

Let's go to sleep with clearer heads
And hearts too big to fit out beds
And maybe we won't feel so alone
Before we turn to stone

And if you wait for someone else's hand
You will surely fall down
If you wait for someone else's hand
You'll fall, you'll fall

I know that I am nothing new
There's so much more than me and you
But brother how we must atone
Before we turn to stone
