What a strange time to be out walking
At this mysterious scorn
What a strange time to feel this close
To both you and the answer
You and this answer

The stars took the night off
Except the one I was looking for
The stars took the night off
Except the one that I adore

I'll need a lifetime to spend right here
Though I have such notion
At least it's not alone anymore
Because of you and this answer
You and this answer

The starts took the night off
Except the one I was looking for
The starts took the night off
Except the one that I adore
