I've been talking to my self
And I've been walking around for days
Trying to make the pieces fit
There's always something in the way (regret)
And the world remains the same (perfect)
To the world a single name (downside)
On the road that isn't going (distance)
And the weight of you is so long

And I'm searching for my self
I'm trying to find the words to say
I can never let you go
And a part of me will stay (with you)
I'll never let you down (I swear)
You'll never hit the ground (inside)
And the forces still remain (outside)

If you're lost don't ever hide
Before you open your eyes
I'll be coming around again
Before you open your eyes
I'll just pretend
I am always by your side
I am always by your side

I've been thinking to my self
And I've been hoping I'll be right
When I make the pieces fit
Will I bring you back to life
I'm trying to find a way no
I'm running out of time
I've tried giving it all aside (I swear)

If you're lost don't ever hide
Before you open your eyes
I'll be coming around again
Before you open your eyes
I'll just pretend
I am always by your side
I am always by your side
By your side

I'm coming around again

Open your eyes
Open your eyes
Because someone loves you
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
Because someone loves you
Open your eyes up and see

If you're lost don't ever hide
Before you open your eyes
I'll be coming around again
Before you open your eyes
I'll just pretend
I am always by your side
I am always by your side
By your side
