Stand up take a bow
You're leaving so who's laughing now?
Just yourself by yourself
No one else there's no one else

Face the end
Walk out the door
You're leaving giving up on us all
Just yourself by yourself
No one else here who can help

Now you wake up tired
So uninspired
To face the world
The world's on fire

Lay down on the floor
It's over you don't care anymore
Face yourself by yourself
No one else here who can try

Wake up Wake up
To the world
The world's on fire

Where did we go wrong?
Fighting for so long

I didn't ask for this at all
When my back's against the wall
And my face painted for war
I didn't ask for this at all
