Slipping with ease from my feet to my knees
You are the life force, the lover and savior
I will please no one else but myself
I offer my soul as a prize
Your cool lips corrupt with a kiss of desire

That will burn in the fire of delight
Taste then another, another, another
Take me and sate me, I love you, I hate you She's reckless and gives and she takes
I would have more, I would drink more, I would eat more
Destruction tastes sweeter, each time that you meet her

I would take more, I would love more
I would use oh so much more, oh so much very more

I would live more, I would give more,

My destiny's written in blood
Drink and consume, lead me far from this room
Love me and leave me, destroy and deceive me

I'll escape like a bird to the sky
Crush your intolerance, your stinking abhorrence
Of pleasure and laughter and life
The essences of life is to share our delights
Drink it down for there's more still to come
