Here they come, misguided ones they the children of the book To lose themselves in Ecstasy forget the lives that they took Lost in madness, lost in faith lost in fear,lost in hate

Come in hope, and come in love, come in madness stained with blood.

Jerusalem

With their hints and with their prayers If theres a heaven, they get there the final days they shall be saved, not the heathen nor depraved

From the skies comes Jesus Christ draped in gold,draped in white paradise shall be their lot then again, maybe not
