I dare he who takes my place
To kill you with complements.
You could spend hours on the phone
Of high school replay.
We'll cry and inspire words
Well I've been there once before
But your lips are best left untouched
Ask anybody.

I've been dying just to tell you something
I've been waiting oh for so long
You like to tell me that your fine without me
You'll regret it when I'm gone

I'll Pray to god you can not breathe,
Or go a single day without the thought of me.
When you decide to go just know
You can go free.

You'll ask him to burn inside
While you beg me for one more time.
And I'll clean up the mess we made
With our tongues bleeding when our mouths met.
We'll Kiss to exchange the flame
As we ignore consequence.
But your lips are best left untouched
Ask anybody.

I've been dying just to tell you something
I've been waiting oh for so long
You like to tell me that your fine without me
You'll regret it when I'm gone

I'll Pray to god you can not breathe,
Or go a single day without the thought of me.
When you decide to go just know
You can go free.

[x2]

Oh, I've been dying just to tell you something
Oh, I've been waiting oh for so long

You'll regret it when I'm gone

I'll Pray to god you can not breathe,
Or go a single day without the thought of me.
When you decide to go just know
You can go free.

I'll Pray to god you can not breathe

I'll Pray to god you can not
BREATHE!

I'll Pray to god you can not breathe,
Or go a single day without the thought of me.
When you decide to go just know
You can go
FREE!
