Revert your feet, retreat, the battle is complete but are we home yet?

Unload your guns, turn around and run, we've got the sun upon our mind-set

This Minerva she is a pacemaker, we are a chain gang and you are the hangman

You can't hurt her, she is invincible, I miss the bottle, but we all miss her more

Well I see you, I see you between the lines

It's always the Western way, to blame it on the yesterday

(Far reaching stranger)

You leave me, you leave me no choice this time

It's still the Western way, to blame it on the yesterday

(Far reaching redeemer)

Unlock you doors, release the poor, they can not scare us anymore now

Ignore their threats we cannot let them use their strength to make us bow down

This new threshold makes me behold a whole new energy

As it takes hold we gain control of a whole new trilogy

Well I see you, I see you between the lines

It's always the Western way, to blame it on the yesterday

(Far reaching stranger)

You leave me, you leave me no choice this time

It's still the Western way, to blame it on the yesterday

(Far reaching redeemer)

You always have options my friend

Opportunities you'd better take them

Take the to your grave

Well I see you, I see you between the lines

It's always the Western way, to blame it on the yesterday

(Far reaching stranger)

You leave me, you leave me no choice this time
It's still the Western way, to blame it on the yesterday
(Far reaching redeemer)
