Silence rings out
Envelops me now
It is an unfamiliar sound
Until it is sought out
The hourglass shows there is still time
But time does nothing but go by
We must find hope within this time
We must find hope within this...life

Webs appear so intricate
Sometimes don't know we're in them
And they cover me like hands clutching, holding
I feel they must be broken
Open eyes to pictures and scenes
Open ears to laughter and screams
How to hear these things completely
How to hear them breathing
Fade to black
The fire is lit
Unavoidable
As comes Union on a White Horse

And we glow like silver snakes in the moonlight
Making our way through buried worlds
Keeping untold secrets
Within glazed scales of turmoil
Hunted down...Chased by Hell
The paws of the enemy tear our scaly skin
Seeping Wild Love
