After many triumphs and complete shatterings
And infinite unknown events to come
My sights are set on the eternal secrets
Buried within this vessel
This passage holds a familiar mystery
Fulfilling dreams and fears
I am not to fall
Beneath the waves of wasted years
Grant this Warrior True Reality
More than a fleeting glimpse soon crumbling
Are limitless trials the way
To expand this understanding?
Or can one choose?
High honor is in store
A worthy dream of a new world
With open eyes the gold is brighter
It will never fade
In the end there is no choice but to walk on
Let go
And give yourself away
