I said

"Your light is yours and his

Your light is yours and his

Your light is yours and his

And you won't die."

She cries out to the angels;

Redemption.

To end her dance with devils;

Salvation.

She tries to accept the changes

She tries to forget the faces

That push her to this place that she calls home

Her futures sinking like a stone

To the bottom of the bottle where everyone knows

That nothing can live and nothing can die

"Your light is yours and his

Your light is yours and his

Your light is yours and his

And you won't die."

She cries out to the angels;

Redemption.

To end her dance with devils;

Salvation.

I know

She don't

Thats how love goes

And everyone that loves her has moved on

She cries out to the angels;

Redemption.

To end her dance with devils;

Salvation.

She cries out to the angels;

Redemption.

To end her dance with devils;

Salvation.
