I've walked in time with past regrets
Remembered some forgot the rest
I cannot hold the weight alone
You can't let go of what you know
As beautiful as it was then
The love still moving through my hands
It collapses and builds itself into something
You may never understand

We are the only sky high
Of the city that we want to call out hope
(Want to call out hope)B
But we're all fragile lovers and tragedies
We have lost all hope
(We have lost all hope)
We have lost it all tonight

Now they can tell our hearts are heavy
You can tell it's in our voice
This will give them all of reason now
And we won't a choice
As hopeless as it may have been
The love still moving through my hands
I'm building and making a beautiful thing
That will never be made again

We are the only sky high of the city
Of that we want to call out hope
(Want to call out hope)
But we're all fragile lovers and tragedies
We have lost all hope
(We have lost all hope)
We have lost it all tonight

They are the lovers dancing
So motionless alone
They are the lovers dancing
So hopeless and alone
They are the lovers dancing
(They are the lovers dancing)
So motionless alone
(So motionless alone)

They are the lovers dancing
(The are the lovers dancing)
So motionless alone
(So motionless alone)
So hopeless and alone

A... a... a... alone.
