Your Advice

Your advice, your advice
Two impatient fledgelings
Left a small hope of flying your advice
When your down and you're tired
You have dreams of glory
But the world shuts you down, robbed you blind
Your pentinence has crippled you
And so you give your warnings
And I think I knew I said enough
Your advice, your advice
You are said, you crush us
But you think it's destiny of finding I
And I said in return
That your fame has left you
But I still cannot say your advice
Your pentinence has crippled you
And so you give your warnings
And I think I knew I said enough
And so you give your warnings
And I think I knew I said enough
By the grace of your advice, by the grace of your advice
Your advice, your advice
By the grace of your advice, by the grace of your
advice
