Step outside
It's hard looking back from the inside out
No more lies
I'm moving on

Hold your breath when it doesn't matter
You're sinking lower than ever before
Yeah just give it a rest don't bother
Cause you're already going overboard

When every promise breaks
You never hesitate
To turn to turn this right back on me
I see it in your face
Expressions' never changed
I can count on this for sure

It must be easy for you to see
When you're always looking straight through me
It's never easy to just believe in anything you say
You say to me

I never wanted to burn these bridges
I'm setting fire to all I've known
With no desire to fake these motions
I'm letting go, yes I'm letting go
Every promise breaks
You never hesitate

I'm not running away I'm just moving on
Now I finally found out where we went wrong
There's nothing left to explain, so save your breathe Cause I'm saying everything, when you're too afraid to step outside
