Something's moving, we all are able to feel
This time, this place, this light, this pain, that we alle can't deny
What was shwon to us all, in this glow a sardonic grin Then this calm before the storm, inversely broken for our dawn

This rising betrayed control
A wound that's bleeding us out, us all
Deception! We feel our ways
And fading, we're holding, holding abandonce

Something's rising, just between us all
And Dreaming, we all will be discerped and fall Nescent infiltrate will act and seed mischief, seed insation
Splitted now descrying this kind invasion

This rising betrayed control
A wound that's bleeding us out, us all
Deception! We feel our ways
And fading, we're holding, holding abandonce

This rising betrayed control
A wound that's bleeding us out, us all
Deception! We feel our ways
And fading, we're holding, holding abandonce
